WELCOME

It is with immense pleasure and genuine enthusiasm that we extend our warmest invitation to the 16th IAGOD Quadrennial Symposium in 2026!

On behalf of the International Association on the Genesis of Ore Deposits (IAGOD), we cordially invite you to join us in the vibrant city of Porto, Portugal. Set against the backdrop of the Faculty of Sciences at the University of Porto (FCUP), our symposium promises an enriching experience from August 30th to September 2nd, 2026.

Prepare to immerse yourself in an engaging scientific program, interesting field trips and workshops before and after the symposium, and a delightful social agenda designed to offer opportunities to catch up with science and friends.

Embracing the overarching theme of the symposium, "The Role of Geoscience in the Energy Transition," we anticipate insightful discussions and groundbreaking insights that will shape the future of our field.

We look forward to seeing you all in Porto for this exciting meeting!

With warm regards,

The Organizing Committee

ABOUT PORTO

Overlooking the Douro River, Porto is one of the oldest cities in Europe as it was founded in the Middle Ages. One of the most significant characteristics of the city and of its historical centre is the landscape combining harmony within the urban structure and a frame of rare beauty. The city was classified as World Heritage by UNESCO in 1996 and it provides an experience full of surprises. Porto is a welcoming and traditional environment, but it is also a contemporary and artistic city. These traits can be seen not only in the streets, architecture, monuments, and museums but also in the terraces, restaurants and leisure and shopping areas.
